CHILDREN'S SUMMER COSTUMES FOR OUTDOOR WEAR.

Fig. 1. Girl of Eight.—Two shades of poplin—light blue, trimmed with dark blue. The skirt is kilt-plaited, and ornamented with bands of the darker shade, studded with pearl buttons. Loops and ends encircle the waist, and fall upon the skirt. Bodice with square basques; the borders, revers, and collar are of the darker shade.

Fig. 2. Girl of Six.—Pink Danish alpaca, trimmed with pink silk. The skirt is trimmed with two flounces, piped with silk, tunic to correspond. Square bodice and short sleeves, with frills.

Fig. 3. Girl of Twelve.—Grey linen, trimmed with blue linen. The blue skirt is bordered with a plaiting, headed with grey bands. Grey polonaise, with blue cross-band and buttons.

Fig. 4. Girl of Fourteen.—Foulard costume. Violet skirt, trimmed with two flounces, each bordered with a band of spotted foulard. Bodice and tunic of white foulard, spotted with violet.

Fig. 5. Girl of Five.—White cashmere frock, trimmed with blue silk braid; square basques below the waist.

Fig. 6. Girl of Fourteen.—Light brown beige, trimmed with dark brown silk. The skirt has five gathered flounces, and the tunic is open in front, and bordered with a band of silk. Marie Antoinette fichu of brown silk, edged with shaded brown feathers.

Fig. 7. Girl of Eight.—Pink and white striped cambric. The plain skirt is made of the broader stripe, and the polonaise of the narrower stripe, and trimmed with plain pink cambric. Mother-of-pearl buttons down the front.

CHILDREN'S SUMMER COSTUMES FOR INDOOR WEAR.

Fig. 1. Boy of Six.—Brown cloth suit, knickerbockers to the knee, jacket fastened to the throat. The trimming is brown galoon.

Fig. 2. Girl of Six.—White piqué, trimmed with pink or green in-grain cambric. The piqué skirt is ornamented with three cross-cut cambric bands; a small pouf at the back and a deep plaited basque, bordered with English embroidery. Square bodice with pink corslet, likewise trimmed en berthe with embroidery.

Fig. 3. Girl of Six.—Grey linen, trimmed with blue linen. The back of the skirt is bordered with a blue flounce, and the front with a blue band. The tunic is edged with English embroidery. The quilles are plaited and bordered with embroidery. Bodice with bretelles to correspond. This costume could also be made of de laine and silk.

Fig. 4. Girl of Fourteen.—Light grey poplin, trimmed with dark grey silk. Skirt plaited in front, and ornamented at the back with cross-bands. Princess tunic with Louis XV. waistcoat. Bodice with revers, edged with a silk ruche. These revers are continued at the back, and hold up the pouf.

Fig. 5. Girl of Eight.—Blue baptiste and white French cambric. Blue skirt, kilt-plaited from the waist. White tunic, vandyked and ornamented with braiding. Deep jacket bodice with Isabeau basques.
